

My Online Identity

Please write down your answers to the following questions in the space provided.

Where do you see yourself in a few years from now? What type of person do you want to be? What kind of work do you see yourself doing or how will you be spending your time?

Thinking about this “future you,” what passions, interests, or hobbies do you think you will have?

What kind of skills and assets do you think you will have developed by then? Which ones do you think you will be most excited or possibly proud about?

If you think about who/where you are now, do you think how you currently engage online (e.g. how you present and express yourself, the people and communities you interact with, the passions you share, the skills you develop) will have an impact on who/where you would like to be in the near future? If so, how? Or if not, why not?

Source: This content is hosted by Meta and currently includes learning resources drawn from Youth and Media at the Berkman Klein Center for Internet & Society at Harvard University under a Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 4.0 International license. You can make use of them, including copying and preparing derivative works, whether commercial or non-commercial, so long as you attribute Youth and Media as the original source and follow the other terms of the license, sharing any further works under the same terms.